

The Master of Education (Teacher Librarianship)

CSU

Enrol in an online
Masters degree today!

Who should enrol in this course?

Four-year trained teachers who are either practising teacher librarians without specialist qualifications or who wish to move into the field of teacher librarianship.

In this course you will learn about teacher librarians as:

- dynamic leaders, committed to enriching teaching and learning across the school
- successful collaborators, working with teachers to integrate information literacy, literature and technologies into the curriculum
- skilful practitioners, providing information services to support programs with the school
- information specialists, developing and implementing resource and inquiry based processes and strategies to improve student learning
- informed educators who value the importance of evidence-based principles to support professional practice

The School of Information Studies conducts teaching and research in teacher librarianship, library and information management and related disciplines.
